

TR/ST

TR/ST is the musical project of Canadian artist Robert Alfons. The debut album TRST received widespread acclaim for its convergence of pop, goth and dance dynamics, overlaid with the menacing and enigmatic vocals that Pitchfork likened to a “goth version of Eeyore”. Joyland, the project’s sophomore outing, was an even deeper foray into the gender-bending underworld of Alfons’ fantasies. 2017 saw TR/ST perform at FYF & Cloak and Dagger Festivals in Los Angeles ending the year by sharing upcoming single ‘Destroyer’ in the Nowness premiered short film of the same name starring and co-directed by Ryan Heffington (Sia, Arcade Fire, Baby Driver) and Justin Tyler Close (The LAB). His hotly anticipated 3rd album is scheduled for a 2018 release.